

Contributions of Prime Minister Nehru

Br. Aman

19 Feb 2026

Introduction

- Jawaharlal Nehru was the first Prime Minister of India.
- He served from 1947 to 1964.
- He played a key role in shaping modern India.

- Started the Five-Year Plans to grow the economy.
- Focused on building dams, factories, and industries.
- Helped India move towards self-reliance.

- Established institutions like IITs and AIIMS.
- Promoted scientific research and technology.
- Believed education was key for progress.

- Advocated for peace and non-alignment.
- Worked to keep India independent in world affairs.
- Supported unity among newly free nations.

- Remembered as the architect of modern India.
- His vision shaped democracy and institutions.
- His leadership laid the foundation for future growth.